

Students from Italy come to Florence on field trips to visit the heritage city on March 14. In the rain or in the sun, the streets are filled with students during the school year learning about the history of Florence.

The Florentine News Magazine is the english news source for english speakers in Florence, Italy. Jane Farrell, deputy editor of The Florentine meet with Principia College Italy and Malta study abroad students on March 11.

The military presence in Florence is strong. There are at least four branches of the military that range from giving parking pickets, the police, to special forces. Police observe a tribute on March 8.