

Three Photos of Malta

By Kaya Equevilley

On the southern end of Malta's mainland, the Marsaxlokk fish market remains open on April 6.

This market has been open for over 50 years. The market is open from 6 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sundays.

A memorial for a murdered Maltese journalist and blogger is still active eight years after her death on April 7.

Daphne Caruana Galizia was killed by a car bomb in 2017 because she attempted to share the corrupted truth.

Three tourists learn more about the salt pans on the northern coast of Gozo island on April 8.

The salt pans are used to harvest salt by hand during the summer months. There are three traditional salt pan farmers left in this region.

